The first Western-style public schools were established by Haji-Mirza Hassan Roshdieh. Amir Kabir (the Grand Minister) helped the first modern Iranian college establish in the mid-nineteenth century, and the first Iranian University modelled after European Universities established during the first Pahlavi period. There are both free public schools and private schools in Iran at all levels, from ...

Education in Iran - Wikipedia

Prior to the nineteenth century European medical training and practice was ostensibly self-regulated through a variety of antique corporations, guilds or colleges. Among regular practitioners, university trained physicians formed a medical elite while provincial surgeons and apothecaries, who learnt their art through apprenticeship, made up the lesser ranks.

1 The Premise and Presence of Bias. Feminist jurists who accept the premise of male bias insist on 'asking the woman question' to identify the gender implications of rules and practices which might otherwise appear to be neutral or objective' (Bartlett 1990, 832). This approach to law (p. 307) is radical, if not revolutionary.
